authority of a director of the Standard Gas Company, was made public yesterday in Wall Street:

William Rockefeller has been engaged for some time past in negotiations with the president and officers of the Standard Gas Company, for the purpose of purchasing control of the securities of the Standard company.

With that end in view, Mr. Rockefeller has within the last few months called upon the officers of the company at various times at the Standard office. Finally, Mr. Rockefeller made a cash offer for the heldings of the officers and directors, all other stockholders to receive the same price for their holdings if they desired to sell.

Mr. Rockefeller's offer was considered by the men with whom he conferred, with the result that they formulated and submitted to Mr. Rockefeller, a counter-proposition, providing for a slightly increased price and certain privileges for Standard stockholders in connection with consoliation. Mr. Rockefeller now has this offer under consideration. He may accept it at any time, and if he does the bargain will be carried our in good faith by the Standard people.

As the interests which Mr. Rockefeller and his associates represent already control the policy of every gas company in this city except the Standard, the purchuse of this company by them would five them a monopoly of the gas business of New-York City.

Morristown, N. J. March 16 - While the people day trains over the Delaware, Lackawanna and Ratiroad there is talk in Madison that there will be an effort to prevent trains passing through that place on Sunday. D. Willis James is said to be the man with the club which is to prevent the running of the trains. He refuses abtives are also reticent. The talk of stopping the has been announced by the different companies for trains is based upon alleged provisions of an agreement between the road and these from whom it bought property years ago.

It is said that when Charles Johnson sold land to the road to enable it to pass through Madison, and again when it wished to double-track the line causes were inserted in the agreements to the effect that the land was never to be used for Sunday trains. This assertion is thought to be unfounded unless there is in existence an agreement made independent of the deeds. There are three deeds in the office of the County Clerk here which agreement to cover all the ground bought by the company from Johnson. In mone of these deeds does there appear anything forbidding the running of Sunday trains, nor can there be found any agreement to that effect.

Railroad men say that even if such a deed or agreement did exist it could be set aside on the ground that conditions had changed from the time ground that although not contrary to the public interests when it was made it has since become so. again when it wished to double-track the line
